Mickey believes everyone can reach high levels of performance if inspired and led. During his three decade Air Force career as an engineer officer he commanded thousands of Airmen, managed portfolios worth billions of dollars, and worked with military, civil, and industry officials around the world. He is a proud Texas Aggie and a Distinguished Graduate from the Eisenhower School in Washington DC.

Mickey is the author of seven books, including Leading Leaders: Inspiring, Empowering, and Motivating Teams and The 5 Be's For Starting Out. He's a frequent contributor to industry magazines, a guest on podcasts and radio, and popular leadership blogger. Mickey is the founder of Lead The Way Media.

Mickey brings his considerable leadership experience to teach you the keys to High Performance Leadership!

Keynote & Workshop Topics

- Leading Leaders. In the military we learn to lead from our core values and set the example. In this talk you learn how to achieve high performance through values-based leadership!
- The Synchronized Leader. Leaders are in the "people business"-- by learning the art of connecting with people, you can take your team to high performance.
- Leadership Lessons from Surfing. This is a light program with a serious message! Using surfing as a metaphor for leading through change, you'll learn to "surf the wave" and take your team on an "epic ride" to success!
- The 5 "Be's" A Positive Vision for A Healthy & Successful Life. In a world of "no" this talk is all about saying "yes" to being the best person you can BE.
- Surfing the Wave of Change. Rapid and disruptive change is part of modern business. Follow three simple steps and you'll be leading your team to greatness!

What People Are Saying About Mickey

I've watched Mickey get more done than a single person could ever achieve on their own for nearly two years. Now I see how he does it! Leading Leaders is not only worth the read, but more than that, worth putting into practice.

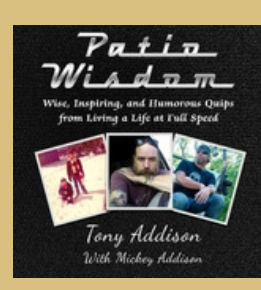

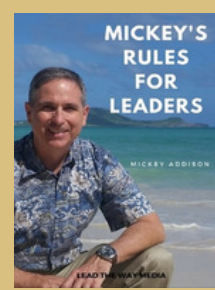

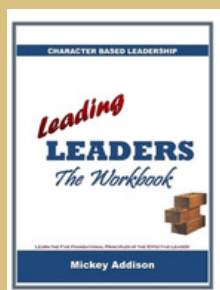

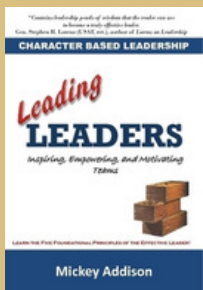

Tim Gibson, Brig Gen (ret), Executive Vice President / Director of the Center for Leadership Development, Kings College, NY

Mickey did a fabulous job leading a Speed Mentoring session for our Young Members and Fellows. The sponsor was very pleased and we received great positive feedback from all the participants!

Marc Bialek, Director of Membership, Society of American Military Engineers, Alexandria, VA

Mickey's "5 Be's" presentation during our 2016 Intentional Leadership Conference was on point! The cadets thoroughly enjoyed his session--he was energetic, engaging, and relevant to the entire audience!

Kenneth Allison, Associate Director, Hollingsworth Leadership Excellence Program, Texas A&M University Corps of Cadets, College Station, TX
